

Mitchell Evans LLP, Architects based in Godalming, Surrey are currently undertaking the construction for the new build block of flats for Puttinu Cares Foundation, a Maltese charity which provides care and accommodation for the families of children who are being treated at the Royal Marsden Hospital for cancer and cancer related illnesses such as leukaemia. The accommodation is very specific to provide a comfortable place for the families whilst their children are receiving their treatment, giving them a more homely environment for the weeks and months that they are in this country.

The site was recently attended by the President of Malta, who takes a keen interest in all aspects of the Puttinu Cares Foundation and he unveiled a plaque on the site which is currently under construction.

Mitchell Evans are pleased to be involved with the Foundation's work and is typical of some of the projects that the practice gets involved with.

Mitchell Evans celebrated it's 20th Anniversary this year and is a broad based architectural practice, covering works from domestic extensions, single dwellings, developer housing, commercial projects for retail and office use. The practice has gained a good reputation in the area for giving a good personal level of service and projects range from around £300,000 to £10m.
